David Merchant Edit
He/him

A dynamic and well-rounded learner, I have spent the last three years studying at The University of Western Hobart. During my time, I was actively involved in group assignments and led the discussion forum on The Ethics of Cybersecurity, where I facilitated theories and discussions from over 100 attendees. My academic achievements and extra-curricular activities are verified and I believe present me as a well-credentialed individual who has experienced and presented on relevant subjects for the role advertised at ACME Corporation.
